The company, which first launched its franchise in 2016, has seen rapid growth as it has worked to steadily saturate the Southeast corner of the U.S. plus other territories. Big Jerry's Fencing can currently be found in Georgia, Florida, Idaho, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Louisiana, Florida, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

The fencing industry is certainly hot as it has seen year after year growth since 2022. Grandview Research cites that the industry is expected to go up by a CAGR (compound annual growth rate) of 5.5% through 2023. Another research firm, The Brainy Insights, projects the fencing market to reach $16.72 billion by 2032. It is a great time to join the franchise, says Davis, as growth is steady and demand is growing.

“Our team has seen heavy interest in our franchise model since our launch. This is an excellent low-risk industry to invest in,” stated Davis. “We have two more agreements that we are currently working on plus several discovery days lined up for interested buyers.”
