For Good Greek Founder and CEO Spero Georgedakis, the fight against breast cancer is personal after losing his mother to the disease. He is taking Good Greek's involvement even further by not only serving as an ambassador for "Men Wear Pink of Broward," but is also raising awareness on the importance of early detection as a newly committed member of "CEOs against Breast Cancer."

"My involvement comes from a place of deep personal commitment. Faith, Strength, and Courage — these are more than just words to me. These values, instilled in me by my beloved mother, Stella define the 'Good Greek Way.' and never wavered during her courageous fight with breast cancer," said Georgedakis. "As the Founder of Good Greek, I'm driven to ensure that we leverage our resources, influence, and community spirit to make measurable strides against breast cancer".

The Good Greek Spero is also helping to raise money through the Men Wear Pink campaign. You can donate to that initiative by clicking here.
