Chapco is proud to be a vital part of Connecticut's thriving manufacturing ecosystem. "Our enduring philosophy is 'building partnerships, not just parts,'" says Weinstein. The manifestation of this philosophy lies throughout the entire company. With a team of seasoned engineers, production technicians, and assembly personnel, Chapco provides end-to-end services, transforming ideas from sketches into reality, encompassing testing, manufacturing, assembly, packaging, and fulfillment.

"We've always believed in investing in the best technologies and running 24/7, with multiple lights-out work centers," remarks Weinstein. "Our recent $1.6m investment in a Trumpf Trumatic 6000 fiber laser punch combo is a testament to our commitment to meeting tight deadlines and helping to ensure the resilience of U.S. supply chains, even during this difficult labor market."
