

Scott Jennings Weaves Construction Concepts Into Delightful Narratives For Kids With Debut Children's Book

No More Potholes, Let's Mill & Fill! Lays the Groundwork for the Next Generation of Passionate Builders

HONOLULU, HI, UNITED STATES, October 17, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In his charming debut

I was surprised to find out that my son would love this book!...he loved the rhymes, the "spot the,"...It has become a nightly book for him.”

Gail, the mother of a 4-year-old children's book, No More Potholes, Let's Mill & Fill!, Scott Jennings, P.E., CEO of SJ Construction Consulting, LLC, wonderfully simplifies the world of construction in a way that's fun and easy for kids to understand. His book is the first in the delightful Cathedral Termites series where each story serves as an educational bridge between children fascinated by construction and their hardworking parents in the construction and engineering industries..

No More Potholes, Let's Mill & Fill! brings readers into the world of Ted, a curious termite worried about the deteriorating state of a road in his town. With the help of his friends and family, Ted embarks on a heartwarming adventure to fix their community's problem.

This book is an expression of Jennings' passion for making construction and engineering understandable and engaging for the younger generation. By presenting these themes in a child-friendly format, he hopes to inspire a newfound appreciation for construction and perhaps even spark the beginning of future careers in the field.

Gail, the mother of a 4-year-old, praises the book saying, “I wish this book came in hardcover! I was surprised to find out that my almost 4-year-old would love this book! I thought it would be too advanced for him. But he loved the rhymes, the "spot the," the illustration and the entire story. This book is inclusive and playful. It has become a nightly book for him.”
