Monica H. Kang

Monica H. Kang became a certified coach and founded InnovatorsBox in 2016 to rethink equitable access to leadership and creativity. Innovation and coaching programs were often expensive and exclusive for people who wanted to grow and learn. InnovatorsBox is a global leadership firm specializing in workplace creativity and people development. To fuel connectivity and new thinking even during the pandemic, Kang created spaces and resources for global innovators to learn and connect while we were all stuck at home. Kang led over twenty global community meetups with hundreds of innovators, created YouTube channels to ignite innovative thinking, and built multiple free resources and tools for professional development on her site innovatorsbox.com/free. Today, she continues to serve her global corporate clients in coaching, leadership training, and team development but also actively helps build bridges for the next generations by doing entrepreneur speaking.

Coach Diversity Institute Founder and CEO Dr. Towanna Burrous said, "CoachDiversity Institute takes immense pride in recognizing and celebrating the accomplishments of our esteemed alumni. Monica H. Kang not only exemplifies this through her unwavering commitment to inclusion but also consistently delivers high-quality products and services to her clients, fostering a culture of creativity and leadership that is accessible to all."

In 2023, Coach Diversity Institute honors Monica H. Kang and Jessica Bantom for their leadership, service mindset, and dedication to inclusion and diversity with the power of coaching.
