SEATTLE, WA, UNITED STATES, October 11, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Seattle University's 2023 Business & Engineering Career Fair has confirmed participation from various blue-chip firms including Alaska Airlines, Amazon, Costco Wholesale, Grant Thornton, JP Morgan, Kroger, Liberty Mutual, PACCAR, and T-Mobile.

This specialized career fair that focuses on business and engineering job opportunities takes place on Thursday, October 12th, at the university's Campion Ballroom. Co-organized by the Albers Career Center and Seattle University's Career Engagement Office, the event is aimed at undergraduate and graduate students seeking full-time summer internships and full-time jobs upon graduation. It also provides a valuable pipeline of business and engineering talent for companies looking to hire for new or existing positions.

"The Business & Engineering Career Fair is one of the Albers Career Center's signature events that takes place at the start of the academic year," explained Megan Spaulding, Director of the Albers Career Center. "Students are able to network with some of the biggest and brightest businesses while understanding, up close, what they are looking for in their recruitment efforts. For companies, it's a valuable lens into promising young talent who can be nurtured from
