

AECO Energy Receives First-Ever Bronze Stevie® Award for Tech Startup of the Year - Software

SINGAPORE, October 11, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- AECO Energy, a dynamic force in Singapore's energy technology sector, proudly announces its latest triumph: the prestigious Stevie® Award for Tech Startup of the Year – Software (Bronze) at the 20th Annual International Business Awards® (IBA) last August 14, 2023. This first-ever Stevie® win highlights the company's innovative software technology as a startup since its launch in 2021. AECO Energy has helped organisations cushion the impact of the energy crisis and introduce a new way of managing electricity more efficiently.

The International Business Awards® are the world's premier business awards program. The 2023 IBAs received entries from organisations in 61 nations and territories. More than 3,700 nominations were submitted, and winners were determined by the average scores of more than 230 executives worldwide who participated in the judging process in June and July.

“Congratulations to AECO Energy on its achievements, including winning the Digital Capability Award and expanding its operations to the Philippines. Their commitment to renewable energy and their unique technology in electricity management and procurement is impressive. Seeing their efforts driving market efficiency in the energy sector is great,” said one of the judges. According to another one of the judges, “AECO Energy played a vital role in shaping the future of the energy industry in Singapore and beyond. Its focus on sustainability, innovation, and customer-centric solutions positions it as a key player in the rapidly evolving energy landscape.”

"The energy market is evolving at an unprecedented pace. This is why AECO Energy has embarked on a mission to empower businesses with innovative software and services. This award is really due to the whole team at AECO, who are dedicated to driving our solutions forward on behalf of our customers.

Our whole team is innovating for our customers' sake, and our first Stevie® is a testament to their dedication and innovation. We are humbled by this recognition, but we are also energised by the challenges that lie ahead. Guided by smart, rigorous and trustworthy values, AECO Energy will continue to provide value to customers while transforming the energy industry. "
