

Introducing RVScout: The AI-Powered Future of RV Inventory and Sales Assistance

"Stick & Tin's RVScout: Transforming the RV Landscape with AI-Powered Sales Tools, Elevating Dealership Interactions and Streamlining the Sales Process."

MISSOULA , MT, MISSOULA , October 11, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Introducing RVScout: An AI-Driven Approach to RV Inventory and Sales

MISSOULA, MT – Stick & Tin LLC, known for its innovative solutions in the RV industry, announces the launch of RVScout. Developed under the guidance of Matt Powell, who also pioneered Lot Metrix, RVScout integrates advanced technology with deep industry insights.

Matt Powell states, "Our software solutions originate from addressing genuine industry needs. RVScout aims to bridge the gap between conversation-driven RV shopping and technology, ensuring users find the right RV through an intuitive experience. The integration of AI offers a modern perspective on RV shopping, streamlining dealership processes and enhancing interactions."

Building upon the foundation set by Lot Metrix, RVScout introduces voice-assisted features tailored for RV dealerships, aiming to refine the sales process.

In line with its upcoming debut, Stick & Tin plans an exclusive presentation in Las Vegas, during the RVDA event from Nov 6-10th. This event will provide attendees with an in-depth look into RVScout's capabilities.

Joe Frament mentions, "RVScout represents a new direction in the RV industry, emphasizing continuous growth and elevated standards."

As the Las Vegas event approaches, industry professionals are encouraged to learn more about this innovative tool and its potential impact on the RV industry's trajectory.
