

Sequentur's Chief Information Security Officer, Christopher Capps, Attains Prestigious CISSP Certification

CLEARWATER, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, October 17, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Sequentur, a leading innovator in Cybersecurity Solutions, is proud to announce that Christopher Capps, the company's Chief Information Security Officer (CISO), has been awarded the Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) certification, the highest standard in the field of cybersecurity.

The CISSP certification, awarded by (ISC)², represents a remarkable achievement and a testament to Mr. Capps' expertise, dedication, and commitment to ensuring the highest levels of security for Sequentur and its clients. CISSP is a globally recognized certification that demonstrates an individual's expertise in designing, implementing, and managing robust security programs and infrastructure.

This accomplishment reflects Chris' dedication to ensuring the highest level of security for our clients, and it strengthens Sequentur's position as a leader in the cybersecurity industry.”
