ProtoLytic Announces the Launch of the Proto-Link™ API

TAMPA, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES,
October 24, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ --

In line with its vision to continually redefine decision-making processes in the healthcare domain, ProtoLytic has officially announced the release of the Proto-Link™ API. This advancement demonstrates the company's commitment to enhancing medical efficiency and extends its capabilities into other industries such as Workers' Compensation, Auto Personal Injury, Disability, and Medicare.

The Proto-Link™ API, incorporates both state and federal algorithms developed over a span of six years. With the integration of validated AI results, it not only enhances its proficiency in managing intricate medical regulations but also paves the way for expansion into new sectors. This evolution of the API positions organizations to realize notable cost savings by harnessing improved decision-making capabilities for integration into existing systems.

Tom Sweet, COO of ProtoLytic, stated, "The introduction of the Proto-Link™ API aligns with our goal of broadening our impact. While our foundation is firmly rooted in healthcare, we are aware of and are addressing the pressing needs in sectors like Auto Personal Injury, Disability, and Medicare."

In light of increasing operational costs faced by industries, the Proto-Link™ API offers a structured approach. Its emphasis on data-driven decisions and AI-assisted and verified guidance, sets it up as an asset in contemporary management strategies.

Mr. Sweet further commented, "The strength of the Proto-Link™ API lies in its adaptability. Beyond making strides in healthcare, we are charting new territories across various sectors, ensuring that organizations are equipped to address cost challenges with clarity and confidence."

The Proto-Link™ API symbolizes ProtoLytic's endeavor to elevate decision-making paradigms across multiple industries. By focusing on operational efficiency and fiscal responsibility, it aims to equip stakeholders with the means to achieve tangible returns and drive forward-thinking strategies.
