Necksus Takes the Helm as ARC's Community and Web3 Security Expert
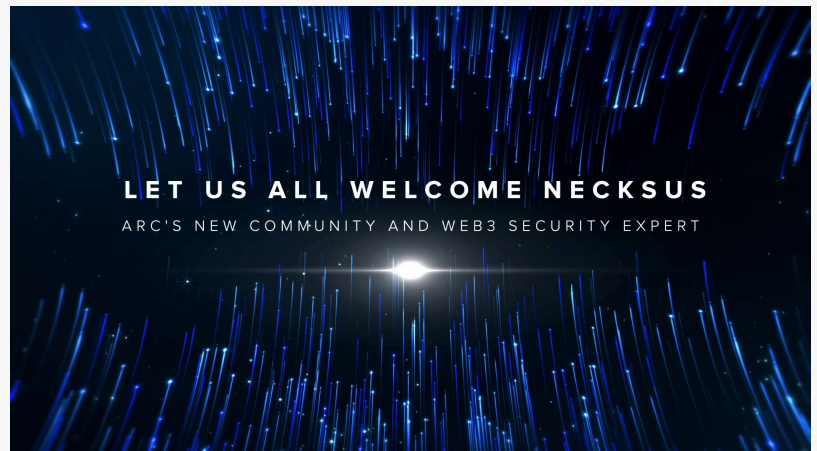

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE, USA, October 24, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ARC, a trailblazer in the realm of Web3 security, is thrilled to introduce Necksus as its new Community Manager. Necksus, the driving force behind the Wolves of Alt Street Discord community, is embarking on a mission to fortify ARC's community with a unique focus on security.

Necksus's path to crypto stardom is truly extraordinary. Rising from humble beginnings, he undertook various odd jobs while working his way through a Master's in Business Administration. His unwavering dedication and perseverance led to the creation of one of Discord's most vibrant crypto communities, boasting over 15,000 members.

LET US ALL WELCOME NECKSUS
ARC'S NEW COMMUNITY AND WEB3 SECURITY EXPERT

We extend a warm welcome to Necksus as ARC's new Community Manager, dedicated to uniting the Web3 community around the vital cause of security. Together, we look forward to building a brand that unites Web3 and solidifies ARC as a thought leader in Web3 s

Necksus, a visionary community builder, will be instrumental in establishing a brand that resonates with the entire Web3 ecosystem. His expertise and leadership will be pivotal in making ARC a thought leader in the realm of securing Web3.

At the heart of Necksus's mission at ARC is the cultivation of a community that not only understands but passionately champions the cause of security in the Web3 space. He envisions building a brand that unites the diverse stakeholders in Web3, providing a common platform for all to rally behind.

In his role as ARC's Community Manager, Necksus aims to lead the charge in making ARC a prominent voice in the field of Web3 security. His vision is to position ARC as an authoritative source of knowledge and insights, offering valuable guidance on the best practices for securing Web3 technology.
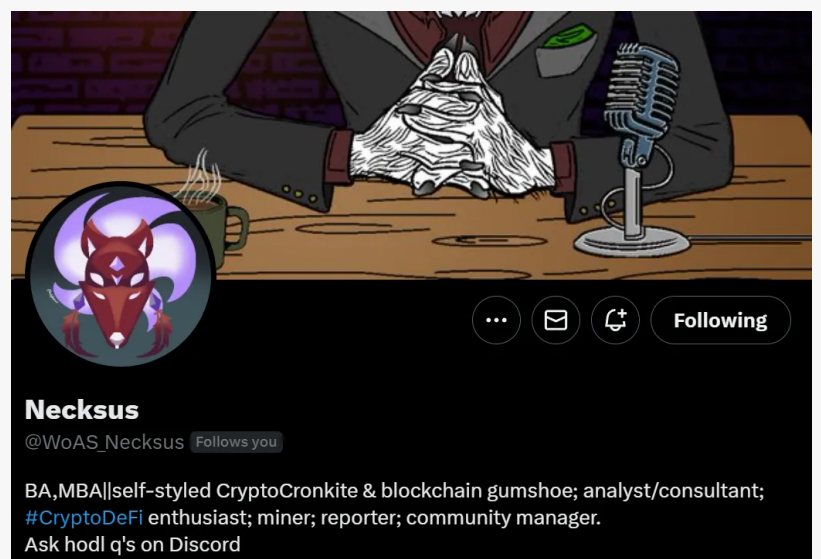

Necksus's journey extends far beyond community building. His unwavering commitment to ethical crypto trading has driven him to dive deep into the intricacies of scam investigations. His contributions as a key figure at Intelligence On Chain are a testament to his skills in on-chain analysis, most notably in creating the Beanstalk Report, which documented a smart contract theft valued at $160 million at the time.

With recent Web3 vulnerabilities resulting in losses exceeding $25 billion, ARC recognizes the need for visionary leadership within its growing community. Necksus, with his distinctive blend of community-building experience and expertise in on-chain analysis, is the perfect fit for ARC's groundbreaking approach to Web3 security. This approach includes live, on-demand auditing with Archimedes.
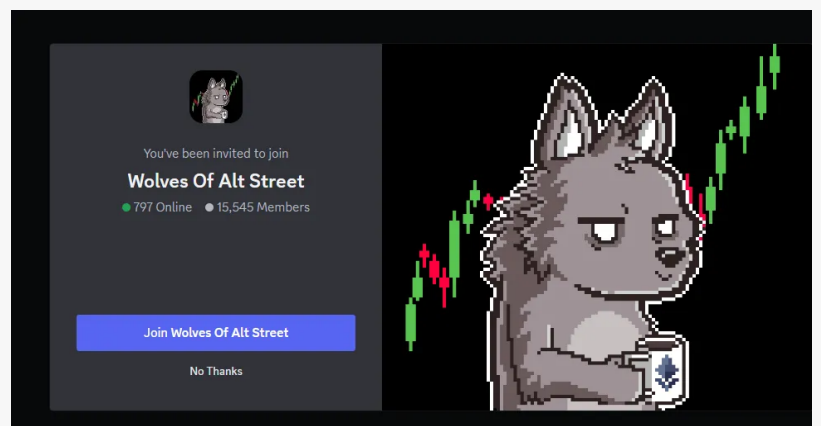

Necksus's dedication to inclusivity and adaptability remains unshaken. He is determined to make the ARC experience accessible to all, regardless of whether you're an experienced 'degen' trader or a casual investor. His proven ability to build diverse communities positions him as the ideal ambassador for this mission.
