

Ivan Erdevicki's Luxury Digital Art Comes to Life on Bitcoin Ordinals

Acclaimed yacht designer and naval architect launches pioneering digital artifact collection

VANCOUVER, CANADA, October 25, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- World renowned yacht designer & naval architect Ivan Erdevicki unveils his groundbreaking Digital Artifact Collection, a unique and innovative collection of digital artworks inspired by 30 years of his traditional yacht designs to be forever inscribed on the Bitcoin blockchain. The collection transcends the boundaries of art and technology, cementing its legacy as a watershed moment in digital art history.

In an exciting collaboration between ER Yacht Design and Bmeta Digital Development Company, CEO Erdevicki brings his signature style and vision to life, forging a new path in luxury digital art. Each masterpiece in the collection ushers in a new era of digital creativity.

Erdevicki's yacht collection is the first to be permanently inscribed onto the Bitcoin blockchain using the Ordinals Standard, a new emerging technology. This makes it a landmark moment in the digital art world, and it is sure to inspire other designers to follow suit.

Ordinals are revolutionizing the way we collect and experience art. "I am thrilled to be launching my digital artifact collection on the Bitcoin blockchain via Ordinals. The Bitcoin blockchain provides a secure and decentralized platform for my collection, ensuring that they are preserved and accessible to everyone for generations to come” stated Erdevicki.

Erdevicki expresses gratitude for the chance to collaborate with Bmeta on this groundbreaking project, praising Bmeta's leadership in the Web 3.0 space and expressing confidence in their ability to help him bring his digital artifact collection to a global audience.

Andres Timor, COO of Bmeta said, “Working closely with Ivan throughout 2023, we are committed to creating digital masterpieces that offer collectors unparalleled real-world utility, value, and opulence, setting a new standard for fine digital art. With Ordinals, we can now immortalize these digital artifacts on the Bitcoin blockchain, ensuring their perpetual place in history.”

To further enhance the collection's prestige, Bmeta's developers have inscribed these Ordinals onto rare satoshis, endowing them with undeniable intrinsic value.

“Ivan Erdevicki's digital artifacts are the perfect embodiment of this vision, and his collection is a testament to his creativity and innovation” stated Timor. Excited to collaborate with Erdevicki on the launch of this revolutionary collection, “we are confident that it will be highly sought-after by collectors and enthusiasts alike.” - says Andres.

'The Bmeta Yacht Guild', Ivan Erdevick's master collection of 256 digital yachts will be on the auction block before the end of 2023.

Erdevicki's digital yacht collection auction will be unveiled soon. Stay tuned for an announcement with the specific date and time.
