

Estes Services Provides Heating Maintenance Tips for Fall Season to Atlanta Homeowners

Estes Services, Atlanta's #1 HVAC, plumbing, and electrical family business, shares important heating maintenance tips for homeowners this fall and winter.

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, October 25, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Estes Services, Atlanta's #1 HVAC, plumbing, and electrical family business, is sharing important heating maintenance tips to help homeowners prepare for the fall and winter seasons.

As the crisp autumn air sets in, residential heating systems need to be ready for further temperature drops. Scheduling an annual heating tune-up is one of the most important fall HVAC tips that homeowners can do to ensure that their system is operating properly. It is also a common requirement to maintain your HVAC equipment warranty.

Maintenance Manager*

“Regular maintenance can increase the efficiency of your unit, which, in turn, reduces your energy usage and thereby lowers your utility bills,” states Barry Warrick, Estes Services Maintenance Manager.

In addition to a tune-up, homeowners should pay attention to strange noises and smells when their heating system starts up. If there are any strange signs, it's best also to schedule service with a licensed and NATE-certified contractor.

With these fall HVAC tips in mind, Estes Services is offering heating tune-up services at $79 for homeowners in the greater Atlanta area. The special offer is available on its website. Their heating tune-up includes inspection of burners for proper alignment and cleaning, testing for gas leaks, changing air filters, inspecting heat exchangers, testing CO detector operation, examination of flue pipes for corrosion or blockages, checking the thermostat for proper operations, and many other safety procedures.

For a limited time, Estes Services offers free second opinions on HVAC, plumbing, and/or electrical quotes. They also offer exciting special heating repair and installation offers for a limited time, including up to $2,350 on full qualifying Carrier Infinity Systems.
