About Health4Peace, The mission of the of Health4Peace is to To Promote, protect and improve the lifelong health of the individuals and communities in rural areas of the world while bridging the gap between the diasporas and Africans through education on health issues with the assistance of technology. Health4peace is a 501c3 non profit dedicated to helping hospitals and medical facilities in rural areas in the world. Awards are given to individuals who have persevered and made a difference through music, film, fashion and medicine during our once a year gala.

Health4peace was created when the founder went to her home country of Chad and saw a woman miscarry at the steps of her homeland village hospital after waiting 24 hours to receive care. This sparked an unrest in her.

Today we have shipped several items to Chad and Senegal but have reached a point where individual help is not enough. The journey has been an eye opener due to the fact there is lack of knowledge in terms of prevention in medical care in. The objective is to supply other rural hospitals and medical facilities with preventive education and supplies to understand the delivery of medical care

The Health4Peace Gala Fundraise 2023 will be hosted by Tammi Mac. Tammi Mac is a three-time NAACP award-winning writer, producer, actress, and radio and television personality. She was hand-picked by Stevie Wonder to host an afternoon radio show on his Los Angeles-based station, which is, in and of itself, proof enough that she has the voice and the chops of a bona fide star.

The Health4Peace Gala Fundraiser 2023 will include a Red Carpet event with Celebrities, Sports Figures and Political Leaders. the evening will include dinner and an awards presentation. The event will end with a interactive After Party,

The 2022 event was supported by both national as well as international corporations. Sponsorships for the Health4Peace Gala Fundraiser is still available.
