Betsy speaking about finding power in discomfort

In September 2015, the United Nations adopted 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) designed to tackle paramount global challenges, including eradicating hunger, combating climate change, and reducing inequality. These ambitious goals have fostered collaboration among a diverse spectrum of stakeholders, including private sector companies like CloudWerx, working in unison to create a more sustainable world. CloudWerx is excited to be a participant in this critical initiative. We eagerly contribute to the ongoing discussion surrounding sustainable development and the indispensable role of technology in achieving these audacious goals.

During the summit, CloudWerx' Co-Founder and Chief Revenue Officer, Betsy Reed, took the stage to deliver a captivating keynote speech titled "Finding Power in Discomfort." In her address, Betsy Reed drew upon her personal experiences to illustrate the transformative potential of embracing discomfort. She expounded on how discomfort can be harnessed for personal development, effective leadership, and team empowerment. Her inspirational narrative, which revolved around challenging societal norms and advocating for gender equality in sports, serves as an inspiring testament to the profound impact of discomfort in our lives.

Jason Geis, CEO at CloudWerx, expressed, "We are honored to have been part of the 2023 Global Goals Summit, and Betsy Reed's insights on the value of discomfort as a catalyst for change and innovation are invaluable. This event epitomizes a unique opportunity for diverse stakeholders to come together, fostering a shared vision of a sustainable and equitable future. We are thrilled to have contributed to this global dialogue."

The 2023 Global Goals Summit indeed emerged as a platform for forging connections, disseminating knowledge, and inspiring collective action. CloudWerx is deeply committed to engaging with the global community and addressing some of the world's most pressing challenges.
