This nomination is a testament not only to our sustained growth strategy but also to our commitment to drive innovation in the transportation industry” is thrilled to announce that its Owner and CEO, Steve Nelligan, has been nominated as a finalist for the prestigious Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2023 Mountain West Award. This highly respected award program has recognized game-changing business leaders from around the globe for over three decades.

Steve Nelligan

US Transport headquartered in Denver, CO, is the leading provider of dry and liquid bulk transportation and logistics services across the western United States. Offering a full suite of services that includes transportation, storage, rail transloading, on-site facility, and inventory management services, the company has cultivated long-standing relationships with customers through its high standards of service and unparalleled safety program.

The Entrepreneur Of The Year® Award celebrates the innovative minds and transformative leaders who have brought growth, prosperity, and transformation to our world. Nelligan's nomination for this award highlights his exemplary leadership, innovative solutions, and relentless dedication to the growth and prosperity of the transportation industry.

“At US Transport, we strive every day to exceed customer expectations, uphold our high safety standards, and contribute positively to the industries and communities we serve. This recognition is a reflection of the hard work and dedication of our entire team.”

Under Nelligan's guidance, US Transport has excelled in its industry, carving out a dominant market position and exhibiting exceptional growth through strategic acquisitions and geographic expansion. The company's breadth of services, coupled with an industry-leading safety program, has set it apart from competitors and created high barriers to entry.

The Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2023 Mountain West Award will be announced later this year, further spotlighting the groundbreaking contributions of exceptional entrepreneurs across various industries.
