The album features 12 meticulously crafted songs, blending classic country with rocking piano, guitar, and fiddle riffs. Susan describes it as a “melting pot of influences, storytelling, and high-energy live performances.” With Cliff taking the reins on arranging, playing most of the instruments, and producing the majority of the songs, “Fiddle & Keys” stands as a testament to the duo’s collaborative spirit and shared musical vision.

Cliff, the multi-talented musician and producer behind the album, shares, “We’ve been performing together for seven years, and this album truly represents what we’re capable of. It’s fun, heartfelt, and real.”

"It's important for us to have songs that allow us to deliver a high-energy show and entertain," says Susan. "My favorite track so far is the fast, rocking 'High & Dry.'
