

Quattro Climate Control Takes on Three Major Housing Projects in 2023

Scottsdale-based HVAC installing contractor continues to grow with a 200% increase in revenue in the past year.

SCOTTSDALE , ARIZONA, UNITED STATES , October 26, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As explosive growth continues across the valley, Quattro Climate Control takes on the task of providing HVAC install for commercial projects including single-family and multi-family developments, department stores, public storage and more. Quattro is providing high quality and streamlined service to clients in Arizona, Texas, Missouri, Utah and Florida with plans to branch into additional markets by 2024. Recently, Quattro teamed up with Varitec Solutions and was awarded the contract for a progressive multi-family project in Glendale, AZ. Situated across from the Arizona Cardinals Football stadium, Fuze Ballpark will consist of 321 modular units which are made up of 527 pre-built modules. The modules are 80% completed in an off-site manufacturing facility before being transported to the property and stacked in place for final assembly. Quattro is honored to be an integral part of this emerging method of home building. This month Quattro began work on phase two of Culdesac, America's first built from scratch car-free neighborhood. Phase two will consist of 105 units and will have an emphasis on conserving space and energy for Culdesac's residents. Earlier this year the firm was also awarded a contract to complete the HVAC install at El Cidro, a new development in Goodyear, Arizona. The single-family community offers a selection of floor plans including 1 bedroom, 2 bedroom and studio options. These High Performance Homes are designed using money-saving innovation with the planet in mind. At El Cidro, Quattro has installed top of the line HVAC material, including a smart thermostat to ensure that residents have the highest quality and cleanest indoor air. Quattro is poised to take on substantially more work in Arizona and Texas. As a vital HVAC provider since 2020, Quattro understands the needs of large commercial projects and works with clients to exceed expectations and stay within or ahead of schedule.
