The Cargill Turkey Production, LLC, Harrisonburg Hatchery facility began operations in 1985 and now has 62 employees that include a full-time (24/7) maintenance staff. The facility was expanded in 1986 to a total of 42,323 square feet on 9 acres. Each year, an average of 16.5

million poults are hatched and processed at the Harrisonburg Hatchery. The hatchlings are distributed to Cargill’s contract grow-out farms located in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Virginia Voluntary Protection Programs recognize Virginia employers, in any industry, demonstrating exceptional safety and health management systems. The programs are a collaboration between company management, employees, and VOSH staff to establish a cooperative relationship that encourages continuous improvement in worksite safety performance. VOSH VPP administers the Virginia STAR, Virginia Challenge, VADOC Challenge, Virginia BEST, and Virginia BUILT programs.

The Virginia Occupational Safety and Health (VOSH) program is financed in part by a grant from the U. S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), under §23(g) of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970. The Virginia State Plan is funded by a grant of federal funds, which constitutes 50% of the State Plan budget excluding any state overmatch funds. Zero percent, or $0.00 of the State Plan budget, is financed through nongovernmental sources.
