Heritage Signs & Displays' Danielle Manry at Raleigh Office

As the company approaches its 50th Anniversary milestone in 2027, the Research Triangle represents a significant element of Heritage Signs & Displays' growth strategy on the East Coast. The newly established Raleigh Office is under the leadership of Project Coordinator, Danielle Manry, a tenured professional in the signs & graphics industry.

This expansion comes on the heels of Heritage's announcement earlier this year regarding its entry into the Louisville, Kentucky market, with the appointment of industry expert Daniel Whitaker as the Market Leader.

With offices located in Washington DC, Charlotte, Louisville, and Raleigh, Heritage Signs & Displays is steadfast in its commitment to meeting the commercial interior and event environment needs of clients throughout the Eastern United States.

Dan Farnsworth, Director of Development at Heritage Signs & Displays, expressed his confidence in the company's Raleigh expansion, stating, "We are truly privileged to have Danielle Manry, a highly skilled professional, spearheading our Raleigh expansion. With our expertise, we are well-positioned to have substantial impact in creating branded environments within this dynamic and evolving region."
