management in the power generation

industry. Otter Tail Power Company (OTPC), a long-standing Mainsaver customer, has recently completed the seamless implementation of a new maintenance management system at their Renewable Energy Division. This innovative system now manages and oversees nine renewable energy sites, encompassing both wind and solar power generation, strategically located across Minnesota and North Dakota.

This partnership is a prime example of the larger power generation industry, where many power producers and utilities rely on Mainsaver to optimize their asset management processes.”

Dave Shlager, CEO, Mainsaver Software

For Otter Tail Power Company, a trusted customer that has been utilizing Mainsaver at two traditional fossil fuel power generation sites in South and North Dakota, this expansion into the Renewable Energy Division is a testament to the success of the Mainsaver Computerized Maintenance Management System \(CMMS\). This strategic move highlights the trust placed in Mainsaver as they broaden the scope of their asset management capabilities.

The newly implemented system is set to improve

preventive and corrective maintenance programs for all of Otter Tail Power Company's wind turbines and solar arrays. By leveraging Mainsaver's CMMS, OTPC aims to streamline maintenance management, improve productivity, and reduce downtime, all while fostering a sustainable approach to energy generation.

Dave Shlager, CEO of Mainsaver Software, expressed his enthusiasm for this expansion, stating,

"Otter Tail Power Company's commitment to using Mainsaver's CMMS for their Renewable Energy Division exemplifies our dedication to providing reliable maintenance management solutions. It's an honor to support Otter Tail as they embark on this significant journey. This partnership is a prime example of the larger power generation industry, where many power producers and utilities rely on Mainsaver to optimize their asset management processes."
