

Quantum Expeditions acquires Badgerland Mining Club for $2.6 million

Quantum Expeditions joins Badgerland Mining Club in a Major Bitcoin Mining Merger

TEXAS, UNITED STATES, November 2, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In a landmark bitcoin mining consolidation deal, Quantum Expeditions, a spinoff company of the renowned research firm Quantum Economics that focuses on crypto mining has acquired Badgerland Mining Club for $2.6 million worth of equity and options.

Coming off the longest ever bear market and possibly going into one of the strongest bull-runs, a consolidation of the industry and investments into bitcoin mining make a lot of sense at this time.”

Vic Guzman

This deal comes at an opportune time in the bitcoin landscape, following a two year long bear market and less than six months before bitcoin’s quadrennial halving event.

Justin Kramer who was the CEO of Badgerland has now joined Quantum Expeditions as their new COO and has already proven extremely effective. Bitcoin OG and CFO of Expeditions Mati Greenspan states, “Justin was the exact piece that was missing from the Quantum puzzle.”

“When I looked at Quantum Expeditions and their vision for the future of bitcoin mining, it quickly became clear that we’re trying to do the same thing,” said Kramer. Both companies share the same altruistic core values that are fundamental to a bitcoin centric future and both are passionate about building a community who believes in making money while maintaining the integrity of the global currency of the internet.

For this purpose, Quantum Expeditions has recently opened a Discord Server where everyone can come, ask questions and participate. Additionally, Quantum Expeditions is taking full advantage of USA’s Regulation CF and has announced a unique crowdfund offering, which is now available for investors of all sizes.
