

Exclusive Tree Care Marketing from Tree Leads Today Propels Taylorsville Tree Care's Remarkable Growth in Catawba County

HIDDENITE, NORTH CAROLINA, USA, November 2, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Taylorsville Tree Care, a reputable tree care and removal service based out of Hiddenite, NC, has witnessed remarkable growth, all thanks to their partnership with Tree Leads Today (TLT). Specializing in offering exclusive leads to tree care businesses, Tree Leads Today has played a pivotal role in Taylorsville Tree Care's expansion.

Taylorsville Tree Care has been a thriving business for 5 years, led by the husband-and-wife team of Brandon and Amber Killian. Their company services several counties including Alexander, Wilkes, Iredell, Catawba and Caldwell. Some of the towns they work in are Terrell, Sherills Ford, Mount View, Hickory, Mooresville, Troutman, and Statesville. Amber and Brandon's journey has been marked by exceptional expertise in the local tree species and the acquisition of high-end equipment, notably an extra-large crane, which has proven instrumental in enhancing efficiency and safety.

According to Brandon Killian, the owner of Taylorsville Tree Care, "Our extensive experience and top-tier equipment set us apart in our region. We're known for delivering prompt and efficient tree care services, minimizing noise, mess, and disruptions for our clients."

Taylorsville Tree Care's collaboration with Tree Leads Today has yielded substantial results, catapulting their business to new heights. Since partnering with TLT, the company has experienced a remarkable increase in revenue which gave them the ability to purchase new, top quality equipment so that they can complete their jobs with the best safety measures and greatest efficiency.

When asked about their experience with exclusive leads versus non-exclusive leads, Brandon Killian commented, "We love that TLT doesn't share the leads they provide us. The exclusivity ensures that we have a unique opportunity to connect with potential customers, giving us an edge in the highly competitive tree care industry. The only downside is that the zip codes we want are in high demand and have a waiting list with TLT, which speaks volumes about the quality of their leads and their one-company-per-zip-code model."

Tree care marketing is crucial for businesses like Taylorsville Tree Care, and Tree Leads Today's tailored approach has been a game-changer. Amber comments "During a recent storm in our area, residents had just received our tree care marketing, which put our information in their hands at their greatest time of need. We were able to help our community piece back together their properties promptly, as we offer 24/7 emergency services. We probably helped twice the amount of people than we would have without TLT. We not only received large jobs but have also gained substantial exposure in their territory, resulting in repeat work and more significant market presence."

With a deep-rooted understanding of local tree species and a commitment to safety and efficiency, Taylorsville Tree Care has established itself as the go-to tree care service in their region. Their partnership with Tree Leads Today has amplified their reach, connecting them with a steady stream of exclusive leads and driving their impressive growth. In addition to their rapid growth, Taylorsville Tree Care prides itself on its strong community involvement. They have a history of helping the community during storms and providing tree care services for those in need. Their commitment to the community, coupled with their remarkable growth, demonstrates that they are a business with a heart.

In conclusion, Taylorsville Tree Care's journey, combined with the remarkable impact of Tree Leads Today, exemplifies the significance of tree care marketing in the modern landscape. As they continue to grow and serve the Catawba County community, their story serves as an inspiring testament to the power of exclusive leads and the effectiveness of a dedicated marketing partner.
