

Frontline Healing Foundation is 1 of 3 Non-Profit Beneficiaries of The Resilience Ruck 12K on Saturday November 4

The Frontline Healing Foundation is grateful to be a non-profit beneficiary for The Resilience Ruck 12K fundraiser this Sat, Nov 4, 2023, supporting veterans.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, November 2, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- To support military, veterans and first responder healing, the Frontline Healing Foundation is grateful to be one of three non-profit beneficiaries for The Resilience Ruck 12K this Saturday, November 4, 2023, in Bowling Green, Kentucky. This fundraising benefit event will include a 12K Ruck signifying the 12 steps of recovery, followed by a celebration hosted by Casey and Erica Hildreth (USOA Mrs. Kentucky).

This family event is a fundraiser to support veterans who suffer from many different burdens, including Post-Traumatic Stress, Traumatic Brain Injuries, Substance Abuse, and Suicide.

The three non-profit beneficiaries for The Resilience Ruck 12K include:

1. Frontline Healing Foundation (a 501(c)(3) non-profit, formerly the Warriors Heart Foundation),
2. KY Wounded Heroes
3. Special Operations Care Fund

The Frontline Healing Foundation is grateful to be 1 of 3 non-profit beneficiaries for The Resilience Ruck 12K fundraiser this Sat, Nov 4, 2023, supporting veterans struggling with addiction, PTSD and co-occurring issues.

Frontline Healing Foundation CEO/Board Member, U.S. Navy Veteran and Former Law Enforcement Officer, Jordyn Jureczki, shared, "We are grateful to The Resilience Ruck 12K for including our non-profit as one of their beneficiaries for this fundraiser. Our organization subsidizes the cost of treatment for active-duty military, veterans and first responders struggling with substance abuse through inpatient and outpatient treatment, sober living, MeRT Brain Treatment, and K9s; if they do not have insurance or the means to pay for their treatment."

There are many ways to support this event and veteran healing causes, including joining the 12K Ruck (In Person or Virtually from your State), donating, sponsoring, or even volunteering here:

The Resilience Ruck 12K Fundraiser will be held Saturday, November 4, 2023, to help 3 non-profits who support veteran healing, including the Frontline Healing Foundation, KY Wounded Heroes and Special Operations Care Fund.

There is also a virtual component to this event, so anyone can participate across the United States from their hometown in support of veteran healing. To get involved outside of Bowling Green, simply sign up by choosing the "Out of State Ruck ticket", and a Resilience Ruck package will be sent to the individual.

The Resilience Ruck 12K was founded by Casey and Erica Hildreth (USOA Mrs. Kentucky) in 2022 "in order to facilitate a wide array of treatment options for Veterans who are currently unable to perform at their optimal potential due to mental, physical and or spiritual injuries suffered during their time in service."

Casey and Erica Hildreth explain, "Our goal is to remove the variable of cost when a Veteran makes the brave decision to ask for help and serve as a connection to the organization that best fits the Veteran's needs."

USOA Mrs. Kentucky Erica Hildreth's father and U.S. Marine veteran sadly passed at the early age of 57 after struggling with alcoholism. To give back, Erica decided to host The Resilience Ruck 12K in her father's honor and to help other veterans heal.

This annual fundraising event will start on Saturday, November 4th at 8:30am CST. Upon completion of the Ruck, there will be food trucks, a live band, giveaways and small ceremony celebration.
