

Renowned Human Rights Advocate Nkuli Shongwe To Speak at Black Broadband Summit

The Black Broadband Summit Announces Nkuli Shongwe as a distinguished speaker. The summit, will take place on Nov 13th, 10 AM to 3 PM.

MINNEAPOLIS, MN, U, November 3, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Black Broadband Summit 2023 is elated to announce Nkuli Shongwe as a distinguished speaker at this year's event. The summit, dedicated to addressing the challenges and opportunities surrounding broadband access in black communities, will take place on November 13th, from 10 AM to 3 PM.

Nkuli Shongwe is an organizer, facilitator, and cooperative enthusiast, currently serving as the Community Wealth Building Director at Nexus Community Partners. With a focus on engaging and expanding community wealth-building strategies, Shongwe provides BIPOC cooperative education and technical support to foster opportunities for cooperative ownership.

As director of the North Star Black Cooperative, Shongwe brings together worker-owners of Black-led cooperatives, connecting them to the rich history of Black cooperative economics in the US. By applying Black cooperative thought, Shongwe envisions a future of Black wealth and empowers communities to become more engaged and powerful.

In recognition of her outstanding contributions, Shongwe has been appointed as a Commissioner on the City of St. Paul's Human Rights and Equal Economic Opportunity Commission. Additionally, Shongwe holds a Master of Human Rights degree from the University
