Through ShedHub's advanced search capabilities, potential buyers can now explore the pre-built selection of portable buildings offered by North Mountain Structures from the comfort of their own homes. Their diverse range includes storage sheds, single-story garages, multi-story garages, gazebos, pergolas, greenhouses, pavilions, and even swingsets. Local buyers may also customize these models to fit their exact requirements.

Mr. Brickner and North Mountain provide great buildings to the area. We are glad they have chosen our platform to help them with their marketing mix.”

Jeff H., ShedHub CEO

Jeff Huxmann, CEO, and co-founder of ShedHub, expresses his excitement about the partnership, stating, “Mr. Brickner and North Mountain provide great buildings to the area. We are glad they have chosen our platform to help them with their marketing mix.”

Aside from offering a variety of accessory structure options to potential buyers, North Mountain Structures also offers a shed trade-in option for those who want to upgrade their current shed to a bigger one, or to something else built of different materials with some structural changes. Additionally, they offer shed moving options for those who have purchased their sheds secondhand, or for those who have decided to relocate their structure to another area.

North Mountain Structures extends a six-year limited warranty, commencing from the original purchase date, for the majority of their products. Additionally, their Economy Series carries a one-year warranty. In an effort to enhance affordability, they provide a rent-to-own payment alternative that doesn't necessitate a credit check.

ShedHub is committed to providing local buyers with quick and hassle-free transactions when searching for accessory buildings. Through their partnership with North Mountain Structures in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, ShedHub has broadened the array of choices available to residents in the proximity of south-central Pennsylvania, northwestern Maryland, and northeastern West Virginia.
