

Sample Materials Transforms the A&D Industry with AI-Powered Design, Search and Sourcing Platform

Sample Materials is transforming the design industry with its unique AI-rendering and sourcing tool for architects and designers.

DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, November 7, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Sample Materials is thrilled to announce the launch of its groundbreaking website, www.samplematerials.com. As pioneers in the field, Sample Materials is transforming the design industry with its unique AI-rendering and sourcing tool for architects and designers. With this innovative platform, designers can now effortlessly find inspiration, create and enhance their current designs, and order samples, unlocking endless creative possibilities.

AI-Powered Design, Search and Sourcing

The user-friendly search-and-design platform allows designers to generate various concepts using uploaded images of spaces. AI-generated renderings can be tailored to suit a wide range of styles, from Farmhouse to Scandinavian to Modern.

Our one-of-a-kind AI design and sourcing platform is set to revolutionize the way architects and designers work”

Dr. Kevin Cooper

Once a design is complete, designers can instantly order samples directly from suppliers, which will be conveniently delivered to their doorstep. With an extensive selection of superior materials from around the world, design curators are guaranteed to find the perfect look that will leave a lasting impression.

“Our one-of-a-kind AI design and sourcing platform is set to revolutionize the way architects and designers work," said Dr. Kevin Cooper, CEO of Sample Materials. "We are addressing pain points in the A&D industry by providing AI-powered design, search, and sourcing capabilities all in one platform. This generates better sales leads for suppliers, more time for designers and architects to focus on their craft, and more efficient collaboration."

To ensure a seamless creative process, Sample Materials offers real-time chat on the SKU level, allowing designers to have their questions answered and communicate directly with suppliers. Armed with the right information, designers can easily order the appropriate samples through the website.

Still unsure about which samples to order? Designers can choose from a wide array of readily available samples, with the added personal and professional touch. "We have national suppliers who can deliver full-size samples locally, sometimes on the same business day," added Cooper. "We are building the largest community of industry suppliers, designers, and architects who want to work smarter together."

Join www.samplematerials.com today and start uploading your images to transform your aspirations into stunning designs. Discover and order the perfect samples to bring your vision to life.
