

Author Patrick Girondi's Latest Book Delves Into Much Avoided Subject, Strikingly Pitting Money VS God

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, November 7, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- On Tuesday, November 7th, Patrick Girondi released his 4th book in 18 months.

"Blind Faith" is a saga of greed, desperation and religious belief. An elite captain of American industry challenges his easy-going sister's mental state over a prospective $100 million inheritance. Girondi captures the reader's curiosity as he scrupulously differentiates from today's typical (boring) court fight over money: Faith divides Girondi's characters. Believers are lined up against nonbelievers in a Chicago courtroom, to decide, for once and for all, if there is a God.

The characters range from haughty aristocrats, to clever judges and colorful gangsters. The interplay between such poles is suspenseful and "rich" . . . one might say funny. The reader is treated to many dynamics and moving parts with different cultures and religions, politics and morals. Add in mysteriously appearing hand-written letters, and you get a page-turner where Girondi keeps you guessing. Will one choose money or morality?

In this book, Girondi, accomplishes a unique feat, something rarely, if ever done before. He wrote both the novel and screenplay in the same book, giving the reader a sense of what the film will look like before it's produced.

Girondi's memoir book "Flight of the Rondone: High School Dropout VS Big Pharma – The Fight to Save My Son's Life" is a Wall Street Journal #1 Bestseller from 2022. "Rondone" is also available in Italian. In February this year, "New City: A Story about Race-Baiting and Hope on the South Side of Chicago" was published. Just last month, "Faded Genes: Searching for a Cure and Finding Home in Altamura, Italy," was released. Girondi is working with producers P.G. Cuschieri and Craig Cohen on a "Faded Genes" movie deal.
