Opening Session of the 9th East Turkistan General Assembly - November 10, 2023

Coinciding with the APEC Summit, the assembly underscores the urgent need for President Biden to address the Uyghur Genocide in East Turkistan during his meeting with Xi Jinping. The Uyghurs' fight for their independence is posed as a permanent solution to end the Chinese occupation and colonization of East Turkistan — the root of the ongoing genocide against Uyghurs and other Turkic peoples. The election of new leadership within the ETGE during the assembly signifies a commitment to democratic ideals and the pursuit of freedom and human dignity for the people of East Turkistan.

The assembly will serve as a platform to strengthen the call for independence and give voice to those who have suffered under China's policies. The press's role in conveying these discussions is vital, and media representatives are invited to engage with key individuals and cover important sessions of the assembly.

Note: East Turkistan is the Occupied Nation which China officially refers to as the “Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region.”
