

XCentium Announces Strategic Partnership with Kibo Commerce

Composable commerce platform that supports complex Order Management, eCommerce, and Subscriptions

IRVINE, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, November 9, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- XCentium, an award-winning full-service digital consultancy, announced that it has partnered with Kibo Commerce, a composable commerce technology company.

Kibo's best-in-class composable technology solves a unique challenge in the market. It has a level of deployment flexibility and ownership rights that are only found in commerce platforms built from the ground up. With their robust commerce functionality customers can focus on building their business instead of a platform.

"XCentium's continued growth has been the result of delivering well-architected solutions that create business value with exceptional customer experiences. Our reputation for excellence in the ecommerce space makes our partnership with Kibo an ideal fit. As a composable implementation leader, we are excited to join with Kibo to help our customers advance their digital roadmaps," said Amrit Raj, Managing Partner, XCentium.

"We're thrilled to work with XCentium to address the needs of joint customers seeking to offer exceptional commerce journeys with advanced order management capabilities," says Ram Venkataraman, CEO at Kibo. "Our partnership will empower our customers to stay ahead of the curve in the ever-evolving digital landscape."

This partnership focuses on continuous innovation and supporting our clients with the latest modern technologies to deliver unique commerce experiences and pave the way to a more flexible and agile composable approach.

Kibo Features:

Kibo is the only commerce vendor whose capabilities span Order Management, eCommerce and Subscription Commerce in a single composable platform.

- Unified Data & UI
- API-first and flexible
- Cloud native & Secure
- Extensible Order Routing

- Real-time inventory visibility
- Omnichannel pricing & promotions
