These tips are our way of empowering young parents to create a safe environment for their little ones year-round.”

- Stay Present, Stay Safe: Regardless of a product's apparent security features, it is imperative to maintain constant vigilance. This practice serves as the first line of defense against potential accidents.

- Knowledge is Power: Thoroughly review the instruction manual before using any baby product. This ensures that the product is used correctly and safely.

- Trust Instincts: Parents are best suited to judge their baby's needs. If something doesn't feel right, trust instincts. Seek guidance if concerns arise.

"At Abiie, we believe safety is a lifestyle, not just a checkbox. These tips are our way of empowering young parents to create a safe environment for their little ones year-round," says Abiie, LLC Founder Kenneth Chuah.
