

NSITE and AccessAbility Officer Kickoff the “Getting Hired Playbook” Remote Program for Jobseekers with Disabilities

Free LinkedIn Webinar on November 17, 2023 at 1:00 pm ET

WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, UNITED STATES, November 14, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NSITE, the leader in providing career skills training and employment opportunities for blind and low-vision job talent, and AccessAbility Officer, digital accessibility experts behind the only technical skill-based training and certification for digital accessibility, have partnered to help disabled job seekers gain and retain employment with the “Getting Hired Playbook” (GHP) training program.

AccessAbility Officer is written in blue, green and black text. Access is in green and Ability is in blue, except for the T which takes the shape of a green upwards pointing arrow.

“Adding AccessAbility Officer and the “Getting Hired Playbook” Program to the NSITE training portfolio will provide another valuable employment readiness resource for Vocational Rehabilitation Counselors and allow their blind and low-vision clients nationwide build proficiency in navigating LinkedIn effectively to significantly improve their chances of receiving job offers instead of rejection letters. Together, we are equipping job-ready clients to stand out in the competitive job market and get hired,” says NSITE Director of Learning and Leadership Marianne Haegeli.

Developed as a modular, virtual instructor-led three-month program, the GHP equips disabled job seekers with the best tactics and strategies for leveraging LinkedIn, the leading professional employment network, to stand out, get noticed, and get hired in today’s competitive work environment.

“To do what most believe isn’t possible, you need a once-in-a-lifetime team. Our vision is for the US disabled unemployment rate to be the same as the US unemployment rate. NSITE is an undeniable player on the once in a lifetime team we're building to realize this vision," says Tanner Gers, AccessAbility Officer Managing Director.
