Rebuild Ukraine 2.0 is the second international exhibition and conference on the recovery projects, materials, technologies and equipment necessary to rebuild Ukraine's war-torn economy — and the investments needed to support the reconstruction efforts.

The press event following Rebuild Ukraine 2.0 will include live Q&A sessions with UkraineInvest CEO Sergiy Tsivkach and Kingspan Project Director Mike Stenson. Kingspan is a multinational manufacturer of building materials that recently began a major expansion in Ukraine.

The economic growth-focused panel discussion will be moderated by Quantum Media Group Founder Ari Zoldan, who also serves as an advisor for UkraineInvest.

“We’ve been so thankful for the investments and international support we’ve been receiving from investors and organizations around the globe,” Tsivkach said. “Without these international efforts, the road to reconstruction in Ukraine would be much longer and far more challenging. We look forward to the days when all these investments come to fruition, and Ukraine can rebuild even stronger than before.”
