Being recognized on such a prestigious platform adds to our commitment to drive innovation and excellence further”

Erin Lentz, Executive Director of Design at ArtVersion

Erin Lentz, Executive Director of Design at ArtVersion, said, “Receiving these honors in a year where the competition was notably strong is a testament to our team's dedication and skill. The new statuette is a fitting tribute to our hard work. Being recognized on such a prestigious platform adds to our commitment to drive innovation and excellence further.”

The Davey Awards honor the achievements of smaller companies and agencies, with their work evaluated by a panel of esteemed experts from the Academy of Interactive and Visual Arts (AIVA). This panel, featuring professionals from renowned organizations such as Disney, Microsoft, MTV, and others, selects the finest in interactive media. Notably, AIVA, also responsible for judging the w3 Awards, awarded the ArtVersion team four accolades this year, showcasing their excellence in the field.

As a full-service agency specializing in web design, branding, content strategy, UI/UX design, and beyond, the ArtVersion team was tasked with creating a website for Legat Architects that truly reflects their mission and embodies their modernized aesthetic. The redesigned website accomplishes this by offering a fresh approach to user experience. It features a seamless, intuitive interface that visually narrates the Legat story, highlighting their transformative impact on communities.

Legat's previous website—a more static UI/UX experience, was rejuvenated with a highly interactive and intuitive user experience that captured their work in a visually exciting way. Through research, expertise, and an interactive methodology, the ArtVersion team was able to transform the site. The new design language and brand design correlated with the modern and responsive web design, assuring that the refresh was carried out to all mediums in a cohesive way. The Legat team continues to help communities with their architecture designs with a new website that purposefully captures the company ethos.
