

SAVI Opens State-of-the-Art Headquarters to Redefine Commercial AV Experiences

Reinforcing its commitment to dealers and partners, SAVI unveils a new HQ with an immersive experience center showcasing their solutions like never before.

DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES,
November 15, 2023 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- SAVI, designer and manufacturer of commercial AV control and automation solutions, proudly announces the opening of its new headquarters, a facility designed to foster innovation and meet the growing demand for next-gen, simplified AV solutions.

SAVI Experience Center

The ribbon-cutting ceremony and opening event welcomed a vibrant community of nearly 100 area dealers, partners, consultants, and end-users, illustrating SAVI's dedication to collaborative growth and technical advancement in the industry.

Our new HQ is a place where proof-of-concepts and technology become tangible, where our dealers can immerse themselves and their customers in the future of AV – today.”

Derek Wilson, CVO

“SAVI's HQ is a testament to our unwavering commitment to the success of our dealers, customers, and partners,” said John Dorsey, SAVI CEO. “We're not just investing in our company's future—we're investing in the future of AV. Our dealers' success is our success, and we're here to fuel that progress.”

Boasting the SAVI Experience Center, home to the country's largest LG MAGNIT video wall, the new headquarters will serve as a hub for exploration, collaboration, and discovery. Open to dealers, the immersive environment, together with a 50,000-square-foot distribution center, advanced AV training facilities, and a comprehensive system testing lab, allows everyone to engage with the full SAVI ecosystem first-hand.

Dealers and partners are encouraged to bring their customers to the experience center to showcase SAVI's sophisticated lighting and brilliant audio-video solutions. Dealers will also have the opportunity to explore SAVI's other integrated ecosystem partner products from industry leaders, including Sonance commercial speakers, NETGEAR pro-av switches, and Hanwha security solutions.

In line with their philosophy of simplicity, SAVI ensures that the sophistication of their office and technology is matched by ease of use, allowing for broader accessibility and user empowerment.

"SAVI's vision has always been to lead, not to follow," added Derek Wilson, SAVI CVO. "Our new HQ is a place where proof-of-concepts and technology become tangible, where our dealers can immerse themselves and their customers in the future of AV – today."

The opening marks the beginning of a new chapter for SAVI. The new headquarters will fuel the company's soaring business, providing the necessary infrastructure to support its dealers and continue to revolutionize the AV industry.
