Over the last few years OnePlanetCapital has emerged as one of the leaders in climate change technology investing in the EIS space.

The OnePlanetCapital Climate Change EIS fund will be completing a soft close at the end of November and will be investing in a diversified portfolio of early-stage, potentially fast-growth, climate tech companies. The fund invests in sectors such as energy, transport, built environment and sustainable consumer models.

The fund aims to provide full deployment by the tax year end* and to offer investors a portfolio of 6-8 climate tech focused companies. If you would like information on the companies that are likely to form part of the November portfolio please contact the team.

As an EIS fund, investors can get 30% income tax relief and a capital gains free exit if the investment is held over 3 years. Please note tax advantages subject to change, and depend on the individual circumstances of investors.

Please email info@oneplanet.capital register interest and receive further information:

* This is a high risk investment. Deployment timelines and portfolio construction targets are not guaranteed. Investment is of a long-term and illiquid nature. For fuller risk warnings please visit:
