Campo Resort. The fall party presented a comprehensive experience that captured the essence of what the magazine represents: society, sophistication, wisdom, and sensuality. The evening included a cocktail reception and welcoming remarks, followed by a live performance by singer, songwriter, and guitarist Chico Castillo, The Gypsy, who performed some of his most popular songs such as "Bamboleo" and "Volare."

"The S Revista Fall Fiesta at Casa de Campo was an exceptional event that encapsulated the elegance and glamour our magazine represents," commented Lucy Morillo, Publisher and Co-founder of S Revista. "Having the support and collaboration of Casa de Campo Resort & Villas, one of our main sponsors, is simply exceptional and we are grateful for their partnership."

"It was an honor for us to host S Revista at Casa de Campo and be part of this unique and fun event," added Andrés Pichardo Rosenberg, President of Casa de Campo Resort & Villas. "We are committed to providing exceptional experiences, and the S Revista Fall Fiesta and its international guests were a testament to the excellence that characterizes our resort."

As part of the night, attendees had the opportunity to learn about the work of Hogar del Niño, a non-profit organization that provides daily education, food, medical and dental care to more than 2000 students of all ages. The children of Hogar del Niño created artwork representing the essence of the 'S' of the magazine, which were available for donation.

"Each edition of S Revista aspires to go beyond fashion and superficiality, and our Fall Fiesta was no exception. This time our philanthropic commitment stood out with the participation of Hogar del Niño, a charity that we hold dear," emphasized Lisbet Fernández-Vina, Editor and Co-founder of the prestigious publication.

Among the other featured sponsors were the charter and cargo airline Global X, Aerotequila, Red Air, Abanca, the YO accessories line, Comprehensive Medical Aesthetics, The Gipsy perfume by Chico Castillo, MDM Hotel Group, and LMA Consultants.
