Growing Passenger Vehicle Sales Driving Market Growth

The increasing sales of passenger vehicles are a primary factor contributing to the expansion of the automotive sunroof market. Sunroofs, integrated into passenger vehicles, serve to brighten the interiors, provide effective ventilation, and enhance the overall driving experience. As evidenced by data from the China Association of Automobile Manufacturers, passenger vehicle sales reached approximately 21.48 million in 2021, reflecting a 6.5% increase from the preceding year. This surge in passenger vehicle sales is a significant driver behind the flourishing automotive sunroof market.
