oversees 24 publicly quoted companies. The duo is presenting at the Climate Change 'Investors' Forum within the regal walls of the Habtoor Palace on Wednesday, December 6. The duo spearheads the creation of a new standard in ship building - the zero-emission seaworthy marine vessel. The distinguished author, economist and dare say 'visionary', Pauli is ratcheting up protocols found in ZEV (zero emissions vehicles). Porrima, Inc. has demonstrated proof of concept, with a convergence of design excellence and resilience even in the most inclement weather conditions. In partnership with CC-Forum, the expectation is to commence producing the 'Green' fleet within a short time at the conclusion of CC-Forum- Dubai Edition.

Says 'Global Influencer' Farzam Kamalabadi, "A historical announcement is to be made by Future Trends pertaining to Malawi and its role as an emerging nation and as a model of the 'Surprise Rise of African Initiatives'. The CC-Forum helps set the world stage for the destiny of humanity in the grasp of our collective hands. The time is now, if there is to be a forever".

In the sage words of Roz Savage English ocean rower, environmental advocate and writer, "It cannot be right to manufacture billions of objects that are used for a matter of minutes, and then are with us in landfills for centuries". Leading the way are Alex Mond and Karen Monde of TerraMer, BioPlastic Technologies. They confirm: "Plastic pollution is a crisis that threatens the health of the planet and all its inhabitants". This non-biodegradable dirge has infiltrated every corner and crevice of the environment, from the ocean depth to mountain peaks. Terramer will share their leading-edge Bioplastic specialization that includes the innovative manufacture of renewable hemp-based Bioplastic. "We are strategically positioned to revolutionize and diminish the plastic industry with a vertically integrated and environmentally responsive mode," states the Terramer team.

DevvStream's take on carbon credit has avoided the chicanery that has permeated the Carbon Credit space of late. Their foundation is anchored in maintaining scrupulous integrity and organic technology-based solutions. DevvStream's unique approach—industry-proven and guided by the Core Carbon Principles- provide a clear and straightforward path for governments and corporations to meet net-zero goals. On their powerful agenda DevvStream plans to take audiences on an easily comprehensible dive in the complexities of Carbon Credit renewal.

The Event is set to culminate with an auction and fundraiser of highly praised collectables and a film retrospective produced in part by Philip deClare Productions and VIPictures. The black-tie

Gala Dinner & Awards Giving Ceremony culminates with the Metropolitan Orchestra Middle East performance throughout the Gala featuring a selection of both Arabic and European music. The 15-year-old violin prodigy Richard Kollert accompanied by his father Jiri Kollert will be in Dubai, on a return engagement from previous CC Forum's. Richard made his international debut under the baton of the legendary Maestro Placido Domingo.
