

Gaurav Srivastava Commits to Enhancing Global Food Security

The Gaurav and Sharon Srivastava Family Foundation spearheads initiatives in global food security and gender equality in agriculture.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, November 20, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Gaurav Srivastava, together with Sharon Srivastava, continues to support efforts to resolve global food security challenges through the Gaurav Srivastava and Sharon Srivastava Family Foundation. The U.S.-based organization is actively invested in changing the narratives regarding food security on an international scale.

In an environment marked by geopolitical unrest, health emergencies, and ecological transformations, Gaurav Srivastava understands the imperative of concentrating on global food security. The Foundation, under his co-leadership, is dedicated to developing effective solutions by cultivating partnerships that bridge the gap between government and private sectors.

"Our mission transcends providing immediate solutions; it's about shaping a sustainable future where food security is a given, not a privilege," says Gaurav Srivastava. "By uniting forces across various sectors, we aim to create a resilient framework that addresses the root causes of food insecurity and fosters a world of equality and abundance."

Gaurav Srivastava and Sharon, staunch advocates for the cause, have actively participated in various initiatives to enhance global food security conditions. Through their foundation, they have made significant contributions to research and development programs, while also providing financial support to organizations working on food security solutions.

In November 2022, Gaurav Srivastava co-hosted the Global Food Security Forum, where he emphasized his foundation's commitment to finding global solutions to food insecurity concerns. The forum focused on the increasingly pressing nature of solving food shortages and availability due to geopolitical conflicts, pandemics, and climate change.

One of the areas of concern and focus for The Gaurav and Sharon Srivastava Family Foundation is to advance gender equality in agriculture and food security. The foundation maintains that empowering women farmers, comprising 43% of the agricultural workforce, can bolster food production and tackle food security obstacles.

Investing in education, technology, and providing equal access to resources - such as financing and land - for women farmers are critical for progress. The Gaurav & Sharon Srivastava Family Foundation remains dedicated to fostering public-private partnerships, transcending barriers, addressing food security challenges, and promoting gender equality in agriculture.

Gaurav Srivastava and Sharon Srivastava emphasize their foundation's continued efforts in forging collaborations between the government and the private sector to conquer food security challenges. They assert that all sectors related to food security - including banking, insurance, logistics, shipping, oil, and food industries - must work collectively to ensure equal access to food worldwide.
