Feed the Need is set to make an impact once again by providing nourishing meals to the homeless on Saturday,

November 25th, from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. This act of goodwill will take place near downtown Memphis in Morris Park, located at 747 Poplar Ave.

Homelessness could happen to anyone. We hope this puts a smile on several faces during Thanksgiving Weekend and reminds all of us how blessed we are.”

Mario Nolan-Dillard

Since 2018, PowerPeoples has been dedicated to serving the homeless population in Memphis. Attendees can anticipate not only a hearty meal but also the distribution of cold-weather accessories that include hats, scarves, gloves, and socks. Mario Nolan-Dillard, Founder of PowerPeoples, is happy to execute this act of care and compassion again, “We consider it an honor and a privilege to feed the homeless each year. Last year marked our most significant turnout, with over 100 individuals receiving support. Homelessness could happen to anyone.

We hope this puts a smile on several faces during the Thanksgiving weekend and reminds all of us how blessed we are.”

PowerPeoples is committed to community outreach and serves as a people-building platform, offering life coaching to help individuals navigate personal and career challenges, empowering them to achieve their goals. Nolan-Dillard began the Feed the Need endeavor in 2018 after discovering his estranged father living in a homeless shelter.
