We are excited to actualize our growth into new geographic markets, and continue to extend our diverse capabilities throughout California.”

Joel Leineke, President & CEO

“We are excited to actualize our growth into new geographic markets, and continue to extend our diverse capabilities throughout California,” said Joel Leineke, President of recently rebranded Precision Partners. “We are hiring talented estimators, project managers, and trade workers while ensuring we stay true to the core values and culture that are so important to our company”.

The addition of the Pittsburg office will enable Precision and its subsidiary companies W.C. Maloney and Professional Asbestos and Lead Services (PALS) to localize additional resources in equipment and manpower to support a variety of projects in the region. The resulting enhancement in innovative solutions, project efficiencies, and responsive collaboration support our goal of continuously exceeding customers’ expectations.

About Precision Partners
