Buffalo Spree’s Top Doctors list, a highly respected compilation of medical professionals, is meticulously researched and screened by Professional Research Services (PRS). This Troy, Michigan-based company is nationally recognized for its rigorous selection process. The 2023 list, serving as the basis for Dr. Shatkin's 2024 recognition, included only MDs and DOs who underwent thorough verification of their credentials, ensuring an unbiased and comprehensive selection.

The selection process involved a peer-review survey distributed to certified doctors in Erie and Niagara Counties. Invitations were sent via letter, postcard, and email, urging these professionals to participate in an online voting process hosted by PRS. With a response from hundreds of medical experts, the survey covered seventy-four different specialties, ensuring a diverse and inclusive representation.
