ABOUT ADENAH BAYOH

Adenah Bayoh embodies the American dream. At age 13, she escaped the civil war in her native country of Liberia, immigrated to the United States, and is now one of the most successful entrepreneurs in her home state of New Jersey. Inspired by her grandmother, who owned a restaurant in Liberia, Adenah now owns 10 restaurants, including 4 IHOP franchises in northern New Jersey. She opened her first IHOP in Irvington Township, New Jersey, at the age of 27, making her one of the youngest franchisees in the country at that time. In late 2017, Adenah launched Cornbread, her first independent fast casual, farm-to-table, soul food restaurant, which she co-founded with fellow entrepreneur Zadie B. Smith. As of today, they currently own 3 Cornbread locations in New Jersey (Maplewood, Newark, and most recently, Montclair) and 1 location in Brooklyn. Additionally, in keeping with Adenah's mission of bringing high-quality food to urban communities, she launched her latest restaurant concept, Brick City Vegan, in downtown Newark in late July 2021.
