

Harmony Across Borders Celebrated in Steve Barakatt's China Tour

The award-winning composer & pianist will be performing in seven Chinese cities

BEIJING, CHINA, November 30, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- World-renowned composer and pianist Steve Barakatt (史蒂夫·巴拉卡特) embarks on a captivating national tour across China, set to begin on December 1, 2023. This series of concerts is a continuation of his acclaimed "Néoréalité World Tour," which has already graced several major European cities and made its U.S. debut at the iconic Carnegie Hall on March 18. This tour is a testament to Barakatt's more than thirty years of diverse and influential artistic contributions worldwide.

"I am excited to present a national tour in China, a country renowned for its rich cultural heritage and profound appreciation of music. Each city on this tour holds its own unique story, and I eagerly anticipate sharing my compositions with the vibrant audiences across China. This tour is more than just performances; it's about forging connections and celebrating the universal language of music," - remarks Steve Barakatt.

Barakatt's "Néoréalité World Tour" has garnered attention from major media outlets, including The New York Times, CNN, Euronews, and Forbes Magazine. The tour offers a magnificent musical journey through his most acclaimed compositions, featuring a world-class piano performance with several compositions from his latest album, a best-of from earlier releases, and some of his best-known anthems, including the UNICEF anthem, which was premiered from the International Space Station in 2009. The emotional live performance of the UNICEF anthem, which was composed by Barakatt, is one of the most symbolic moments of the concert.
