Market Driver: Companies Embrace Diversity with Inclusive Hiring

A significant driver fueling the vocational rehabilitation services market is the increasing interest among companies to hire individuals with disabilities. This surge is driven by a dual objective: empowering individuals with disabilities by providing income opportunities and benefiting companies with a diverse and loyal workforce. Notably, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported a rise in the employment rate for individuals with disabilities in the United States, reaching 21.3% in 2022, up from 19.1% in 2021. Furthermore, collaborative initiatives such as 'Inclusion to Action' by Microsoft Corporation and EnAble India aim to create 100,000 employment and skill development opportunities for individuals with disabilities in India. This initiative emphasizes technical and vocational skilling, mentorship, internships, and employment prospects to address employment disparities and advance economic empowerment.
