We are excited to move forward into this new chapter for U-Dump Trailers.”

President Brian Ellington

U-Dump’s expanded production facility includes new equipment to enhance the production processes behind U-Dump’s popular dump trailers and roll off trailers, allowing them to be produced more quickly, safely, and consistently. Part of this expansion includes one of the largest state-of-the-art environmentally safe powder coat lines in Central Florida. The new powder coat process will replace traditional wet paint on all trailers.

The new standalone sales and service center allows U-Dump to provide quality sales and service to customers in a comfortable, modern facility in a quieter setting with more space. The sales and service center also includes a well-stocked parts store, making U-Dump a one-stop shop for all your trailer needs.

Per company president, Brian Ellington, “We are excited to move forward into this new chapter for U-Dump Trailers. This would not have been possible without the vision of Anthony Manna, Chairman of M7 Holdings, with us as we make the transition.”
