

Jewish Family Service of Utah Partners with Sites by Sara for a Client-Centric Website Transformation

New Client-focused Design Provides an Enriching Online Experience for both Clients and Supporters of the Organization

SALT LAKE CITY, UT, USA, December 1, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Leading web design and development agency, Sites by Sara, is thrilled to announce the successful launch of the revitalized website for Jewish Family Service of Utah. After a year of meticulous planning and development, the redesigned site is now live, featuring a new, user-friendly design tailored to enhance accessibility for clients seeking information.

The homepage of the new website provides a more client-centric approach. The redesigned layout prioritizes ease of navigation for individuals seeking information about the organization's services, programs, and resources. The user interface has been streamlined to ensure that clients and supporters alike can effortlessly access the information they need, fostering a more intuitive and user-friendly experience.

Sites by Sara's commitment to excellence has played a crucial role in shaping the website into a dynamic platform that serves the diverse needs of both clients and supporters.”

Nicole Levy, Director of Development

In contrast to the previous website which focused on convenient ways for donors to support the organization, the revitalized site now maintains a balanced approach, catering to both community members in need of services and supporters. Donors still find compelling reasons and convenient avenues to give, and clients can more readily access information about resources.

“Jewish Family Service of Utah extends gratitude to Board Member, Sara Lambrinos and Sites by Sara for their invaluable contributions to the redesign process,” said Nicole Levy, Director of Development. “Sites By Sara's commitment to excellence has played a crucial role in shaping the website into a dynamic platform that serves the diverse needs of both clients and supporters.”

Sara Lambrinos and the Sites by Sara team would also like to thank JFS Utah’s Marketing & Messaging Committee for their tireless efforts in thoroughly reviewing pages and providing invaluable feedback during the development process. “Their commitment to excellence has been instrumental in ensuring that the new website meets the highest standards of functionality and user experience,” Lambrinos said.

With the successful launch, Jewish Family Service of Utah invites the community to explore the enhanced features and information on the redesigned website. The agency is confident that the new, client-focused design will provide an enriching online experience for both clients and supporters
