Recertification for HRCI and SHRM is required every 3 years; otherwise testing again is needed to maintain certification.

WESTLAKE VILLAGE, CA, UNITED STATES, December 11, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Tools 2 Succeed advises all HRCI and SHRM certification holders to check their expiration dates at those 3 years can go by quickly! So many certified professionals wait until the last minute and then find that they need 60 hours of credit in a very short period of time.

The idea of recertification is continuous learning. It is always best to start that learning as soon as the new recertification cycle begins. Waiting can cause loss of certification or having to retest which can be incredibly stressful as well as time-consuming as extensive study is usually necessary.
