She will showcase her work at the Ōwa Japanese restaurant and craft cocktail bar at 1635 Abbott Kinney Blvd, Venice, 90291.

Martiradonna's masterpieces will grace the space, promising a visual feast for attendees. Her unique artistic perspective and creativity will undoubtedly contribute to the vibrant atmosphere of the Venice Art Crawl, an event organized by the nonprofit Venice Art Crawl (VAC).

"The Venice Art Crawl's mission aligns perfectly with my vision for art and community," says Patrizia. "I am thrilled to contribute to this dynamic event and share my work with the vibrant Venice community."

The VAC is dedicated to supporting local artists within the Venice community, striving to preserve the rich arts culture that Venice is renowned for.

Attendees at the event will get to engage with the artists themselves during this unique opportunity. Meet and chat with the creators behind the artwork, gaining insights into their inspirations, techniques, and creative processes.

This event is not just about art; it's a celebration of community. Connect with like-minded individuals who share a passion for art, fostering new connections and expanding their network within the local creative scene.

Martiradonna is a visionary artist known for her unique style and creative expression. Her work spans various mediums, captivating audiences with depth and emotional resonance.

Patrizia Martiradonna, born in Rome in 1969 and now based in California, is a distinguished Italian artist. After moving to Los Angeles in 1992, she studied fine arts before embarking on a cross-country exploration, capturing the essence of American landscapes through her photography.

Turning her focus to the canvas, Patrizia found a passion for abstract art, transcending the boundaries of realism. Her paintings have inspired Hollywood film productions and have been a part of major movie productions. Operating from her Marina del Rey studio, 4059 Lincoln Blvd, Marina del Rey, CA 90292, Patrizia conducts "Let the paint flow" workshops. Despite her California base, she maintains an art studio in a small medieval village outside of Rome, frequently traveling to Italy.

Art enthusiasts eager for more of Patrizia can join her at the Open Artist Studio on December 17 from 5 to 8 PM at her art gallery. The event promises an art sale, along with wine, food, and the company of fabulous people. Don't miss this final art studio of the year.

Additionally, Martiradonna is set to be featured at the Los Angeles Municipal Art Gallery, 4800 Hollywood BLVD, Los Angeles, CA 90027, a 70-year-old tradition. Running from December 9 to March 16, 2024, the gallery will host an opening reception on December 9 from 2 PM to 4 PM.

Martiradonna's captivating work will grace the venue for three months, offering a unique perspective in this beautiful and prestigious space.
